BIBLE STORY

One day, Peter and John went to the temple at the time set for prayer, three in the afternoon. A forty year old man, crippled from birth, was at the temple gate begging. The crippled man was put there every day to beg. The crippled man saw Peter and John and asked them for money. Peter and John looked straight at the crippled beggar.

Peter said, "Look at us!" The beggar watched them, expecting to receive a handout.

However, Peter said, "I have neither silver nor gold. But I'll give you what I have. In the name of Jesus Christ from Nazareth, stand up and walk." Peter took the crippled man's right hand and helped him up. Instantly the man's legs became strong and he jumped to his feet. The man went with Peter and John into the temple courts. He was walking, jumping, and praising God.

The astonished people recognized the man with Peter and John. He was the beggar who had sat at the temple gate.

The healed man would not let go of Peter and John. All the people ran up to Peter, John, and the healed man (Ac 3:1-11).

Peter told the people, "Why do you stare at us as if we made this man walk? The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the God of our fathers, has glorified his servant Jesus. You handed Jesus over to be killed. You rejected Jesus before Pilate; even though Pilate wanted to let Jesus go. You rejected the Righteous One and asked that a murderer be released to you. You killed the author of life, but God brought him back from the dead. We are witnesses of this. It was faith in the name of Jesus that gave this man complete healing.

"I know that you and your leaders acted in ignorance. But this is how God fulfilled what he had predicted through all the prophets. Repent and turn to God, so that your sins may be wiped out. Jesus must remain in heaven until the time comes for God to make all things right again. God promised this long ago through his holy prophets. Indeed, all the prophets from Samuel on have foretold these days" (Ac 3:12-26).

LIFE-LESSONS

1. Limited financial resources does not limit what God can do. Peter and John had no money to give the crippled man at the temple gate, but they ordered the crippled man to walk through the power of Jesus' name (Ac 3:3-6). God's actions depend upon his power manifested through Jesus' name.
2. People may reject Jesus; however, God will reveal his greatness. After healing the crippled man, Peter spoke in the temple that the people rejected Jesus, while God glorified him (Ac 3:13-15):
 - People betrayed and denied Jesus; however, God glorified him (Ac 3:13).
 - People preferred a murderer to Jesus; however, God declared him holy and righteous (Ac 3:14).
 - People killed Jesus; however, God raised him from the dead (Ac 3:15).
 - People killed Jesus, thinking he was a man; however, Jesus is the Author of Life (Ac 3:15).
3. When people ask God for what they want, God may give them what they need. The crippled man asked for money, but Peter gave something better, the healing of his legs (Ac 3:5-6). People may ask to solve a small problem, when God wants to give them a whole new life.
4. People blessed by God should praise him. The former crippled beggar jumped, walked around, and praised God (Ac 3:7-10).
5. Individual Christians should take advantage of opportunities to talk about Jesus. When the people surrounded Peter, John, and the former crippled man, Peter had an audience, and he took the opportunity to talk about Jesus Christ (Ac 3:11-26).
