BIBLE STORY:

God helped free the Israelite people so that they could leave Egypt. Moses obeyed God, guiding the people toward the Promised Land.

They traveled through a desert. God showed them which way to go. God led them by a pillar of cloud during the day, protecting them from the hot sun. By night, God led them by a pillar of fire, lighting the way and keeping them warm from the cold nights.

Pharaoh, the king of Egypt, decided to bring the Israelite people back to Egypt. So Pharaoh and his army went after the Israelites. The Israelites arrived at the Red Sea. They were afraid. Pharaoh's army was behind them and the Red Sea was in front of them. How could they get on the other side safely? God told Moses what to do. Moses lifted up his staff toward the water. God sent a strong wind that separated the water and made a dry pathway in the middle. Then the Israelite people walked safely to the other side! Afterwards the water returned to normal and covered Pharaoh's army. The Israelite people were safe, because God protected them.

During their long journey, they became thirsty and hungry. When they were thirsty, God told Moses to strike a rock and water would come out for the people to drink. God sent manna, a type of bread to eat. Also God sent quail, a type of bird, to eat. God provided for their needs.

Because Moses was having so much work to do, his father-in-law, Jethro, gave him some helpful advice. Moses was glad for his helpful words and chose capable men to help him with all his responsibilities and work.

God was always faithful, protecting and guiding the Israelite people toward the Promised Land.
